

Liberia Enters the U.S. 2016 Presidential Race

On July 19, Liberia returned to U.S. Presidential politics with a set of three full sheets and three souvenir sheets depicting the Presidential candidates of the two major U.S. political parties. Shown here are the souvenir sheets.

One souvenir sheet depicts both candidates, Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump, while the other two show the candidates with their spouses: Melania Trump and former U.S. President Bill Clinton.

The full sheets use different photographs of the candidates. Each sheet contains two designs, consisting of 10 of each design for a total of 20 stamps.

Shown here is the sheet with both candidates. The other two sheets feature the candidates without their spouses.

Notice that all of the Clinton issues have a design error, spelling her name as Hilary instead of Hillary. As the error is on all of the issues, it may have curiosity value but should not have any special value as an error.

U.S. Presidents have been a continuing theme for Liberia, one of the most ambitious programs being a 2000 set of souvenir sheets for all of the U.S. Presidents—including one for Al Gore, “the 43rd President”.
